INTRODUCTION

This version of Profiles represents a radical departure from the Profiles publication as many individuals have known it. Previous versions of the document have been published during the Fiscal Year and contained student, staff, and finance information for the preceding school year. However, this version of Profiles and those succeeding versions will contain information for the current school year. That is, the information contained in this document (except where noted) covers the information collected in the fall of the 1986-87 School Year.

Data in this version of Profiles are comparable to previous versions. That is, the membership data, staff counts, and other similar data items are taken from the same major sources as the previous versions of Profiles. No changes in data definitions have occurred.

Financial information which was part of the previous versions of the Profiles publication will become a separate publication dealing only with financial, cost, and student FTE (Full-Time Equivalency) information by program areas. The financial document will be published in the same time frame as the Profiles. However, all information contained in the publication will be for the prior school year.

Florida Reporting Regions - Inside Back Cover

INTRODUCTION

This edition of Profiles is the 17th in a series of publications initiated in 1972. The document, published annually, has as its primary purpose, the provision of an abstract of statistical information covering the broad field of education in Florida school districts. The volume includes a selection of data from many of the surveys conducted by the Department plus the summarization of information from legislatively mandated reports. Included in this selection of data are information on students enrolled in school, graduation information, staff counts by a variety of categories, and teacher salary data. Supplemental information on the number of schools and similar pieces of data are also provided.

The Profiles are divided into six major sections. Each section contains information about each of the five reporting regions in Florida plus information about each of the districts within the regions. A front section provides summarized information about the State.

There have been no changes in data definitions from previous editions of the Profiles documents.
